

18 SURPRISING CHOKING HAZARDS IN YOUR HOME

Risk of choking increases as children begin to crawl and explore their surrounding world. Use this guide to help prevent your toddlers or babies from choking.

FOOD

PEANUT BUTTER
Spread thinly.

LUNCHMEAT
Cut into pea-sized pieces.

BONES
Inspect all fish and other meat for hidden bones.

HOT DOGS
Slice hotdogs into noodle-like strips.

CARROTS
Chop and cook for babies. Cut and slice into strips for toddlers.

GRAPES
Cut into quarters. (Applies to most fruits).

MARSHMALLOWS
Wait until school age.

POPCORN, PEANUTS & NUTS
Wait until school age.

HARD CANDY
Wait until school age. Teach older children not to share hard candy.

AROUND THE HOUSE

PET FOOD
Monitor your pets as they eat and move the dishes out of reach when pets aren't eating.

MAGNET
Put out-of-reach. Double check magnets are properly put together and pieces aren't missing.

BATTERIES
Keep batteries and items they belong to out-of-reach.

LAUNDRY PODS
Keep out-of-reach.

WATER BOTTLE CAPS
Not a playful noisemaker! Keep away.

DOORSTOP TOPPERS
Take off doorstop toppers or secure with superglue.

COINS
Make a family coin jar for on top of the fridge.

BEANBAG CHAIRS
Put beanbag chairs in storage until baby is older, or get rid of these chairs entirely.

LATEX BALLOONS
Wait until school age.
